INOUIRY INTO H. C. L. LANDS HIM IN CELL

ot Away With Food, but Grocer's Wife Yelled When He Tackled Cash Register.

Research into the high cost of living nd reasons therefor were blamed tolay by Lewis Scwart, a scholarly apearing man of twenty-nine years, of o. 1640 Simpson Street, when he was rraigned on a technical charge of unawid entry before Magistrate Frothngham in Tombs Police Court.

Mrs. Valenti Cresci, wife of a groce at' No. 15 Mott Street, testified that Sowart entered the store yesterday and represented himself as a Health Department inspector. She made no pro tost when he sampled the milk, rolls, truit and jam, but when he made signs of looking into the sanitary condition of the cash register she began to shrick like the siren on a fireboat.

Detective James T. Collins came on a run and gathered in Sowart. Severa store proprietors in the neighborhoo joined in a aborus of complaint agains Sowart, but all said he had taken no money.

Sowart told Magistrate Frothingham be was investigating the food situation and high prices. The Magistrate in default of $500 bail sent him to the Tombas

$2,000,000 FIRST DAY IN CHURCH DRIVE

J. D. Rockefeller Jr. Sends $250, 000 Outside Gifts to Own Denomination.

New York City has raised one-tenth of its $20,000,000 quota in the great drive for $336,777,572, which is being made under the auspices of the Interchurch World Movement. This statement was made yesterday at the first of the campaign luncheons for the local workers at the Hotel McAlpin . Approximately $2,000,000 was announced as the first day's receiptsand this was considered away below the standard set for daily reports, because there were many teams that edid not make any report to the Auditing Committee and only one big de-nomination made a general report. The eighty-eight teams of the Execu-

The eighty-eight teams of the Execu-tive and Advisory Committees re-ported collections and pledges amounting to $464,371.

Of the $464,371 reported yesterday for the headquarters committee, John D. Rockefeller jr. gave $250,000. This is entirely separate from gifts he is expected to make to his own denomi-

SLEEPING SICKNESS KILLS.

POUGHKEEPSIE, April 27. - Mias Barbura Rollins of Riverdale, N. Y., died of sleaping sickness at Miss Bennett's school for girls at Haleyon.
Hall, Millbrook, N. Y.
Miss Rollins was taken ill with the measles, but was soon convalescing.

Then she again became ill, this time in a punning manner. Dr. Thomas Mackenzie diagnosed her aliment as steeping sickness, asking that a specialist be called at once from New York City. Dr. Brooks grived and confirmed the diagnosts. They sent at once to the Rookefeller Institute, for serum, but there was none. The girl was in a stupor for six days before death came.

Our automobile will call immediately. The same careful service will deliver your furs next fall.
